

If you BBQ, be responsible

DO

- make sure you're in a BBQ zone
- find a place away from fire risks like hedges
- ensure you have a secure, level base
- use a BBQ that comes with a stand
- keep children, pets and ball games away from the BBQ
- light the BBQ with recommended lighters, NOT petrol
- if you're using a gas BBQ and suspect a leak, turn it off immediately
- cook your food thoroughly
- bring water with you to carefully put your BBQ out

DON'T

- light your BBQ with petrol or any other flammable material that is not specifically recommended
- leave your BBQ unattended
- put other rubbish in a BBQ bin (black with red top)

DISPOSAL

- make sure your BBQ is fully extinguished and cold
- dispose of it in a black bin with a red top
- use litter bins nearby for all other rubbish

Have fun... and respect the rules

Enjoying a barbecue by the sea is one of the great things about living and studying in Portsmouth.

The guidelines in this leaflet will help you make the most of this opportunity, and ensure the seafront area stays safe for everyone – without spoiling your fun.

Please follow the rules. Then you can enjoy the Great Waterfront City without any hassle.
